HireontheSpot Launches Free User-Friendly Resume Builder Website

Boca Raton, Florida – April 26, 2009 – HireontheSpot announced today that their doors are open to aid people in building free resumes due to the high volume of unemployed online job-seekers. Everyone is welcome to visit www.HireontheSpot.com to sign-up and begin creating, and printing their resumes. HireontheSpot is currently accepting memberships for its resume builder website.

New users of the website can expect to sign-up, confirm their email and quickly begin creating their first resume online free of charge with a basic membership. User information is transmitted over HTTPS (Hypertext Transfer Protocol Secure) which ensures the safety and protection of its member's personal information. HireontheSpot is one of the few resume builders online to offer its services completely free of charge (with a basic membership).

Members of the website are able to create a fully functional resume in about 25 minutes. The resume wizard will walk the users through each section of a resume allowing them to input their own information with various formatting options. After completion of the resume, the users will be able to view, edit, and print their resume instantly free of charge in html format (online format only) or for nominal charge in different formats.

Additional membership options exist for "Premier Members" at a monthly cost of $2.00 or a yearly cost of $12.00. Premier Members can create multiple resumes which are all saved in one account and have the capability to view, print, and easily email a selected resume in additional formats including Microsoft Office Word and Adobe Acrobat. Premier Members are also provided with resume hosting which gives them a URL or web address to enable them to share their resume online with friends, family, co-workers, social networking sites, or possible employers.

HireontheSpot also has a blog where users can view articles related to resume building, interviewing, and job searching. The blog is way to give users informative help and advice through a central location within the HireontheSpot website.
